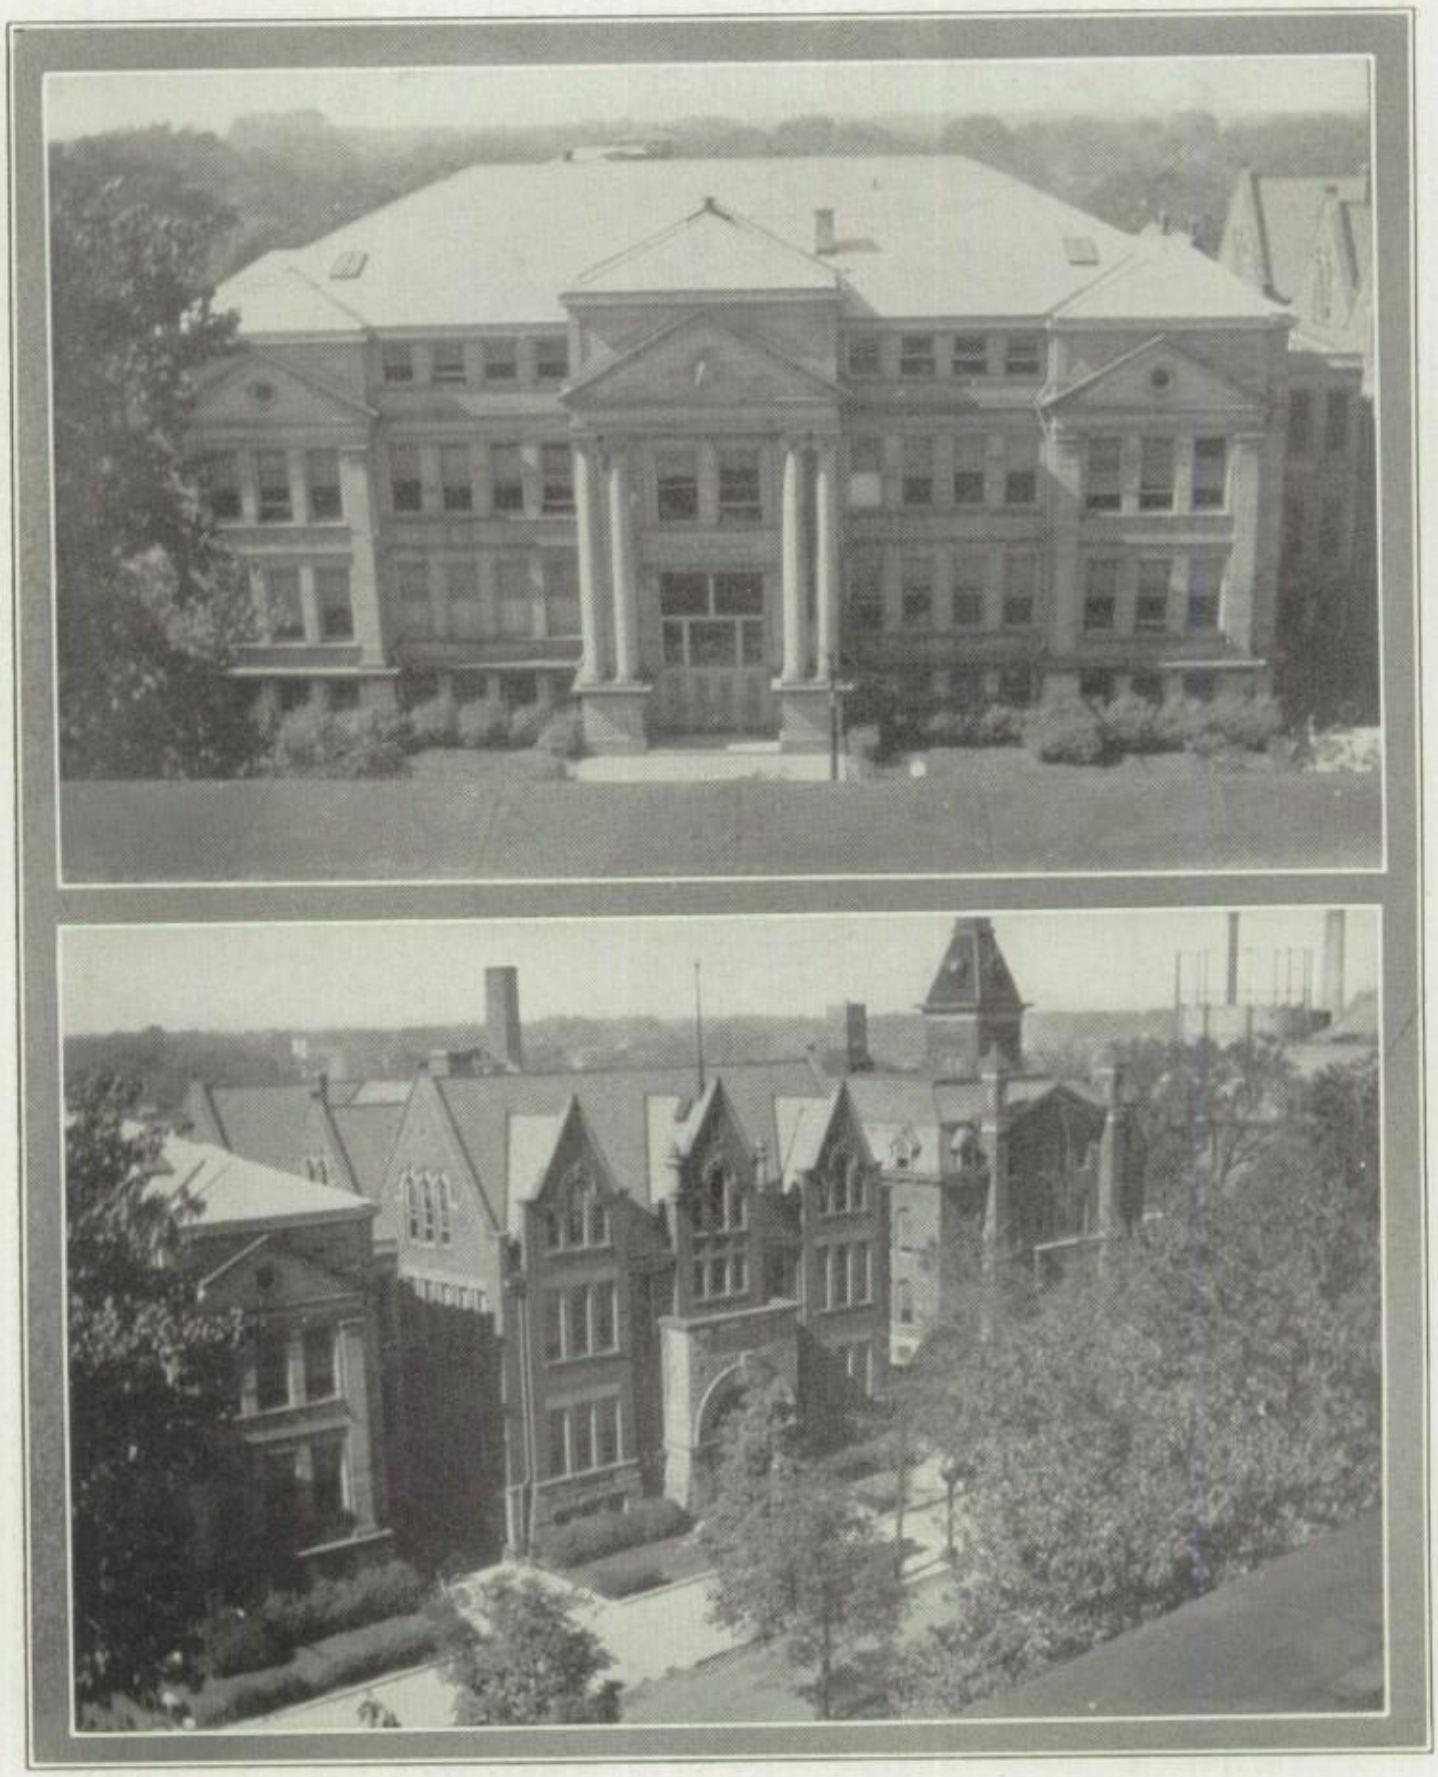
HIGH SCHOOL



Mr. O. O. Young

Mr. Young first exhibited his excellent administrative capacity as the successful principal of our school for five years. He has now been our superintendent for three years. His faithful work and efficiency have been a source of benefit both to the grade school and to the high school. His sincere interest in our problems has made him a valuable friend to the whole student body.

Although we do not have many opportunities for intimate contact with Mr. Young, we feel that he is a part of our school, and we trust in his good judgment.

Mr. Fred Robertson

Ready to understand and help, Mr. Robertson has won the admiration of all the boys during the four years he has been dean. Frank and anxious to give a fair and square deal, he is the one to whom the boys appeal in time of need. A sense of humor, timely encouragement, and an interest in others make him a favorite among his associates. Because he is always willing to offer his assistance, we feel that no one could fill the office of dean of boys quite as well as does Mr. Robertson. His kindly attitude will be remembered long after our high school days.

Mr. E. L. Moyer

Although Mr. Moyer has been principal of Galesburg High School for the past year only, his keen perception and concise decision have won for him the esteem of the school. To him, more than to anyone else, do we extend the credit for this successful year. His willingness to consider all matters however trivial, his enterprising spirit, and his sympathetic interest in our welfare have greatly aided the high school. Our sincere wish is that he may long remain with us.

Miss Margaret Cox

When no one else knows we say, "Ask Miss Cox." Her patience seems everlasting while she answers dozens of inquiries concerning our school activities. Her smile, which often changes to a half perplexed expression, reappears spontaneously when all the difficulties are erased. Through her fairness and sweet personality, she has won the respect and admiration of the student body. May Galesburg High School claim Miss Cox forever!

Donald Roe | John Bohan | Margaret Nelson | Charles Larson

The Senior Class of 1931

The Senior Class under the most capable leadership of Miss Smith and Mr. Crawford, enjoyed a year filled with many successes. The election of officers was held late in the first semester with the following results: President, Donald Roe; Vice-President, John Bohan; Secretary, Margaret Nelson; Treasurer, Charles Larson. The officers, together with the advisors, should be complimented on their remarkable work.

May, as usual, was a very busy month for Seniors. The usual class events were enjoyed, Senior Day and the party. The Senior play and an assembly were also presented by the class.

Mr. John Gillespie

Coach Gillispie

Seven years of service in Galesburg High School have meant much in the development of character and ideals for the boys who have come in contact with Coach Gillespie. As a Coach of both football and track, Mr. Gillespie has always produced teams which have shown clean sportsmanship and good playing, some of which have been far enough above the average to hold national records.

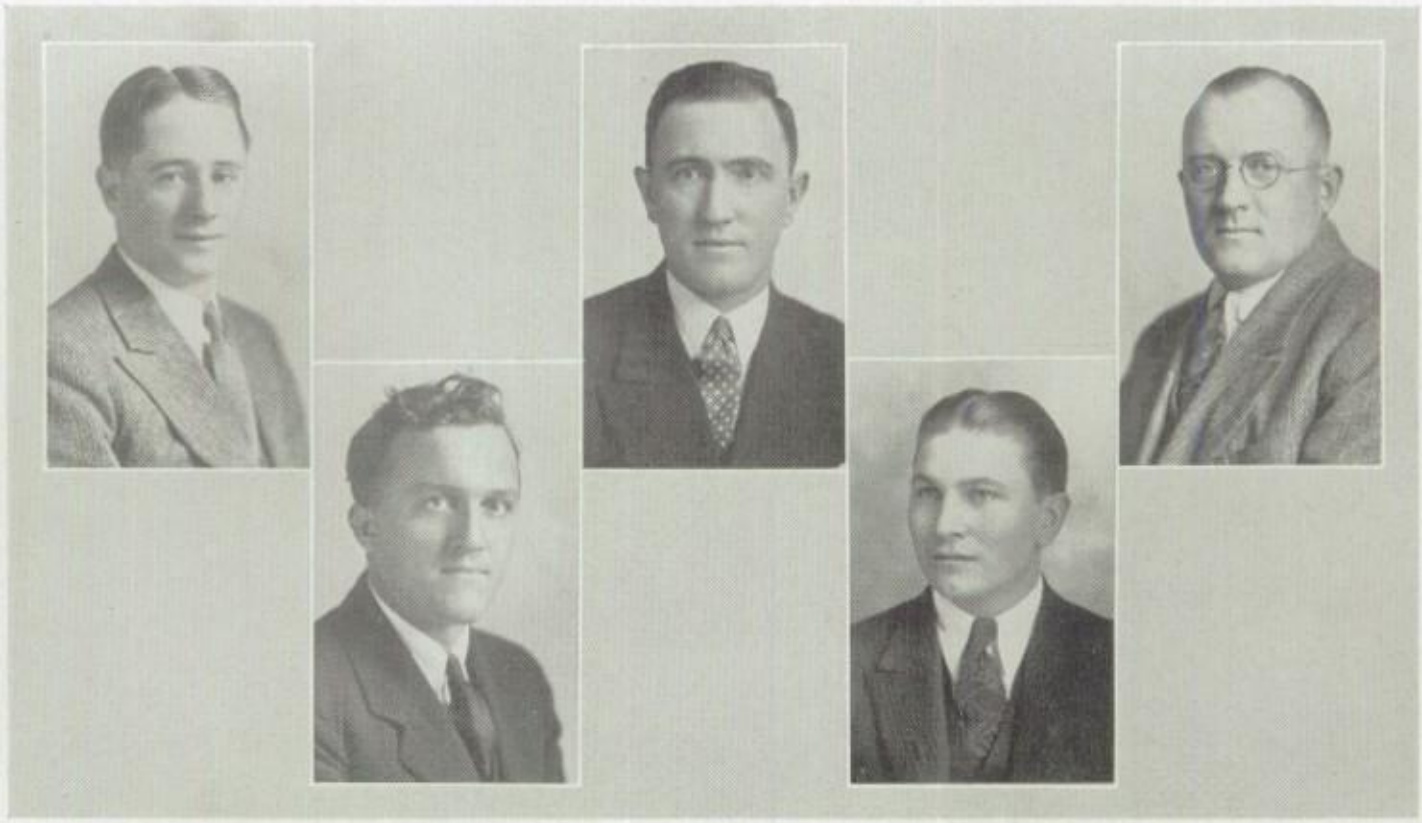
We are grateful to Mr. Gillespie for his interest in school welfare and his ambitions for G. H. S.

Coach Phillips

Mr. Phillips completed his second year of basketball coaching in Galesburg High School and proved his ability to produce a team of championship calibre. Mr. Phillips has won for himself the friendship and confidence of the student body by his quiet leadership, his sincerity of purpose and friendly attitude.

His endeavor to develop a team of good sportsmen, who were masters of the game they played, was rewarded when his team reached second place in competition with seven hundred and eighty-seven high schools in the state.

Mr. Gerald Phillips



Brooking Aldus Gillespie Seiler Phillips

Athletic Committee

The Galesburg High School athletic committee is composed of Messrs.Brooking, Aldus, Gillespie, Phillips, and Seiler. These teachers are responsible for scheduling all athletic contests, selecting the officials, awarding the letters and numerals, settling all disputes arising from games played, and determining the price of student activity and tournament tickets. It is through the efforts of this committee that Galesburg High School has become prominent in high school athletic circles of Illinois.

Bondi

Yea Gold, Yea White,

Yea Galesburg,

FIGHT! FIGHT! FIGHT!

G. H. S. Song

Dear old Galesburg High School!
Proudly may your colors float for ages yet untold,
Dear old Galesburg High School!
Praises to the Silver and the Gold.
Dear old Galesburg High School!
Your stalwart sons will ever by you stand;
Your daughters fair will ever round you rally,
And sound your praises o'er our land.

What's the matter with Bud and Hugh?

They're all right!

Who's all right?

Burgland Roe Larson Liken VanBuskirk

Student Managers

These five seniors have acted as managers for the Galesburg High School athletic teams in the past year. The managers are responsible for all the school athletic property and its distribution to those who are on the squads. This job bears a great deal of responsibility and has been very capably handled by the senior managers of 1931.

Richard Burgland has served as basketball and football manager for the past two years, and is remembered as the scorekeeper at the Pony basketball games.

Acting as senior track manager as well as basketball manager, Dick Liken has done his work well.

His ever present smile and his dependability mark Marion VanBuskirk as one of the best senior basketball managers in Galesburg's athletic history.

Better known as the fellow who runs the electric scoreboard at the basketball games, Don Roe has served very efficiently as basketball and football manager for the past year.

Don Larson has held the position of football manager for three and one-half years and has proved to be reliable, prompt, and good natured in his execution of all duties.

"Hod" Ashley

Football Captain

Howard Ashley, playing his third year of football for Galesburg High School, acted as captain for this year's team. His good judgment stamped him as one of the best quarterbacks in the state. Hod with his ability as an all-around player was feared by all of Galesburg's opponents.

Football Summary

Galesburg High School had a fairly successful football season in spite of the fact that only two letter men remained from last year's team, and we did not win a majority of our games. However, the team made up for its losses by determination and fight, and were respected by all opponents.

There will be twelve lettermen available for next year's team along with those who wore numerals, and the promising material from the freshman-sophomore team. This year the Galesburg High School football team had its first opportunity to play night football, playing games at Rock Island, Quincy and Kewanee.

EAST MOLINE

Galesburg made an unfortunate beginning in the 1930 grid season by losing to East Moline with a score of 7-6. The teams were evenly matched although they were both handicapped by inexperience. The playing of Stevens and Scott was outstanding during this game.

CANTON

The G. H. S. Tigers fought Canton to a scoreless tie in the first home game of the year. Galesburg, playing a better style of football, outclassed the Chadmen, but failed to provide a winning margin. The playing of Henderson and Ashley was the highlight of the game.

MOLINE

Moline High defeated Galesburg in a hard-fought battle by a count of 19-0. Moline displayed a powerful running attack but was forced to the limit in order to win. This was the second Big Nine Conferene loss of the season.

ROCK ISLAND

Galesburg won its initial night game of the year from Rock Island by a score of 12-7. Galesburg, showing a strong attack, outplayed Rock Island for the first victory of the year. The game was featured by the play of the line and Steven's line plunging.

QUINCY

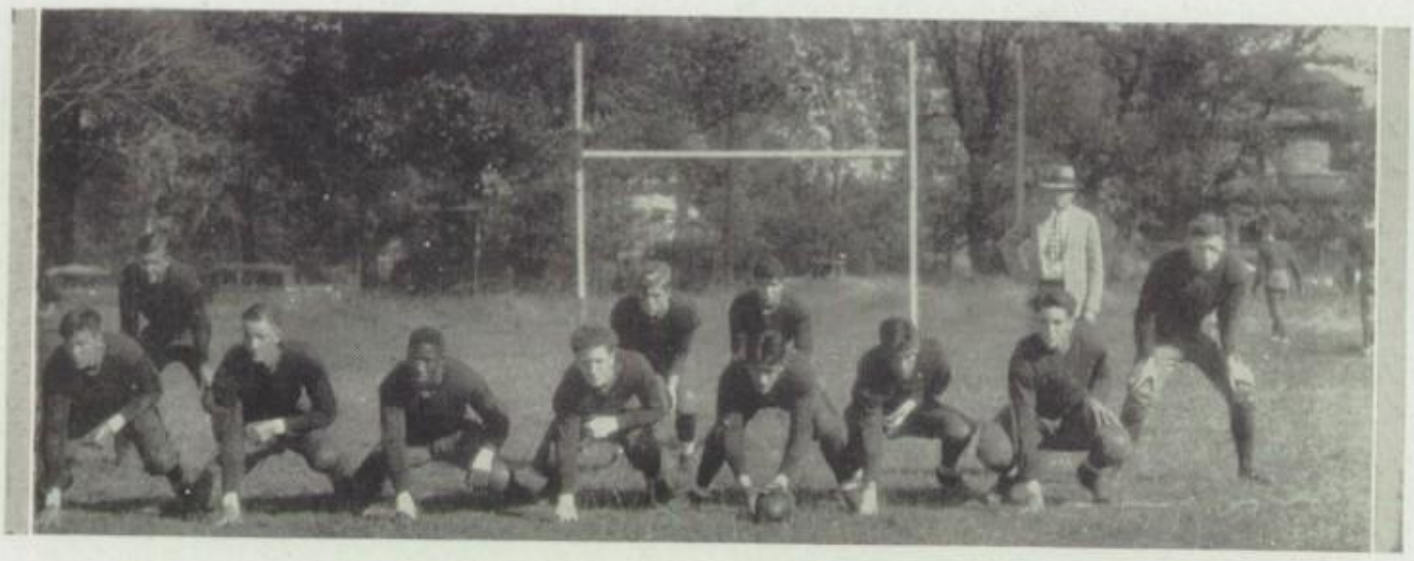
The G. H. S. Tigers journeyed to Quincy only to lose to them by a score of 7-0. Quincy presented a strong team and threatened Galesburg several times. Fumbles cost Galesburg their scoring opportunities. Ashley and Stevens were taken from the game on account of injuries.

MACOMB

A well-balanced Macomb team defeated a crippled Galesburg eleven, 13-6. The game was closely contested but Macomb held a slight edge throughout, due to the breaks of the game. Galesburg scored first but Macomb rallied and gained the lead before the half and then clinched the game with a touchdown in final quarter.

KEWANEE

Galesburg suffered its fourth conference defeat at the hands of Kewanee by a score of 15-0. The fast Kewanee backfield proved to be too much for the Tigers. Galesburg failed to gain consistently and threatened to score only once when Burford intercepted a pass.



MONMOUTH

Galesburg lost the final game of the season to Monmouth by a score of 27-6. Galesburg outplayed Monmouth the first half, but Monmouth came back strong and won the game. The entire Galesburg team fought hard but Monmouth proved superior. This was the last game for Scott, Vestal, Graham, and Dickson.

Freshman-Sophomore Football Captains

These fellows have acted as captains for the Freshman-Sophomore football team in the past season. Through the efforts of these boys the Freshman-Sophomore football team has had a very successful season, and the fine judgment shown by both captains and players has branded them as fine prospects for the varsity of next year.

Freshman-Sophomore Football Coaches

The Freshman-Sophomore football team coached by Mr. Johnson, Mr. Aitchison, Mr. Seiler, and Mr. Smith completed a very successful season. During the second season of Freshman-Sophomore football much material has been developed for the varsity squad, and much credit is due the coaches who have put forth so much effort to make the team a success.

Freshman - Sophomore Football

The Freshman-Sophomore football team had a very successful season for they won four games, tied two, and lost only one. Though small and inexperienced, this team maintained a good fighting spirit throughout the season and gained much publicity by defeating heavier and more experienced elevens. Much promising material for next year's varsity can be gleaned from this squad.

G. H. S. Basketball Captains

The success of the Galesburg High School basketball team has greatly depended upon these boys who have acted as captains during the past season. These fellows by their fine sportsmanship and clean playing were able to guide the team to the finals in the State Tournament and have not only won the respect of their opponents, but the admiration of the spectators as well.

"Hod" Ashley having already won two letters in basketball, finished his fourth year of playing as one of the boys who captained the team so well. His speed, his cleverness, and his determined effort to win for Galesburg helped to make this season a memorable one climaxed by the State Tournament.

Completing his third year of basketball for the Silver and Gold, "Coke" Mills gained much popularity. He was feared by all opponents because of his brilliant floor work and his ability to make baskets, even when closely guarded. Culver was one of the outstanding forwards in the state.

Wayne Robinson, a member of last year's team, was with us only one semester, but his fight and ability to make short shots stamped him as an excellent player.

Playing the position of guard, Paul Mitchell, commonly known as "Pete", proved to be exceptionally capable as a captain. His playing characterized by his cool and quiet manner, combined with a good basket eye, made him one of the most valuable members of the team.

Bob Anderson, a veteran from last year's team, will long be remembered for his uncanny basket eye, and quick floor work. "Swede", during the games he captained, displayed unusual judgement.

Harold "Red" Henderson, whose picture has been omitted from this group, replaced Wayne Robinson at the center position during the second semester. "Red's" fighting spirit and all around ability made him a very valuable member of the team.

Galesburg High School Basketball

GALESBURG 29—FARMINGTON 13

Galesburg opened the 1930-31 basketball season with a victory over Farmington. Galesburg's line-up was composed of veterans; Mills and Anderson, forwards; Robinson, center; Mitchell and Ashley, guards. In the first half the game was slow. The second half showed a reverse of form with more accurate passes and fewer fumbles. This kind of playing soon pulled Galesburg away from the opponents and their lead was not threatened again. In the last quarter the reserves who were given a chance to play showed up well. Ashley was chosen to captain the first game of the year. Mills and Anderson divided the scoring honors with ten points apiece.

GALESBURG 20—BURLINGTON 8

Galesburg journeyed to Burlington to defeat them 20-8. Burlington had developed a defense that nearly stopped the G. H. S. five. At the half, Galesburg was leading by one point. After the rest period, Galesburg came back strong to win the game easily. In this half, Galesburg did not allow Burlington a single point. Galesburg's points were divided among the players. Anderson acted as captain in this game.

GALESBURG 20—PEORIA MANUAL 19

Galesburg defeated Peoria Manual, the 1930 state champions, by the score of 20-19. Galesburg had an uphill fight as the "champs" made eight points in the first two minutes. In overcoming this handicap, Galesburg came from the shadows of defeat to a glorious victory. It was a nip and tuck battle with thrills galore. Robinson did outstanding work in getting the ball from the opponent's backboard and in shooting the tying basket and the free throw which won the game. Robinson was the captain of this game.

GALESBURG 23—PRINCETON 10

Galesburg opened its Big Nine Conference quest in impressive fashion at Princeton by winning 23-10, with a second string line-up. Mitchell and Ashley were the only veterans who played in this game as the others were being saved for the Springfield game. The Galesburg defense was the heartening part of the colorful victory over Princeton. Scoring was well-divided, and the players eluded the Princeton guards to complete play after play. Mitchell was the captain of this game.

GALESBURG 21—SPRINGFIELD 13

The Galesburg cagers certainly did "Spring one on Springfield." Galesburg defeated the Capitol City five by the score of 21-13.

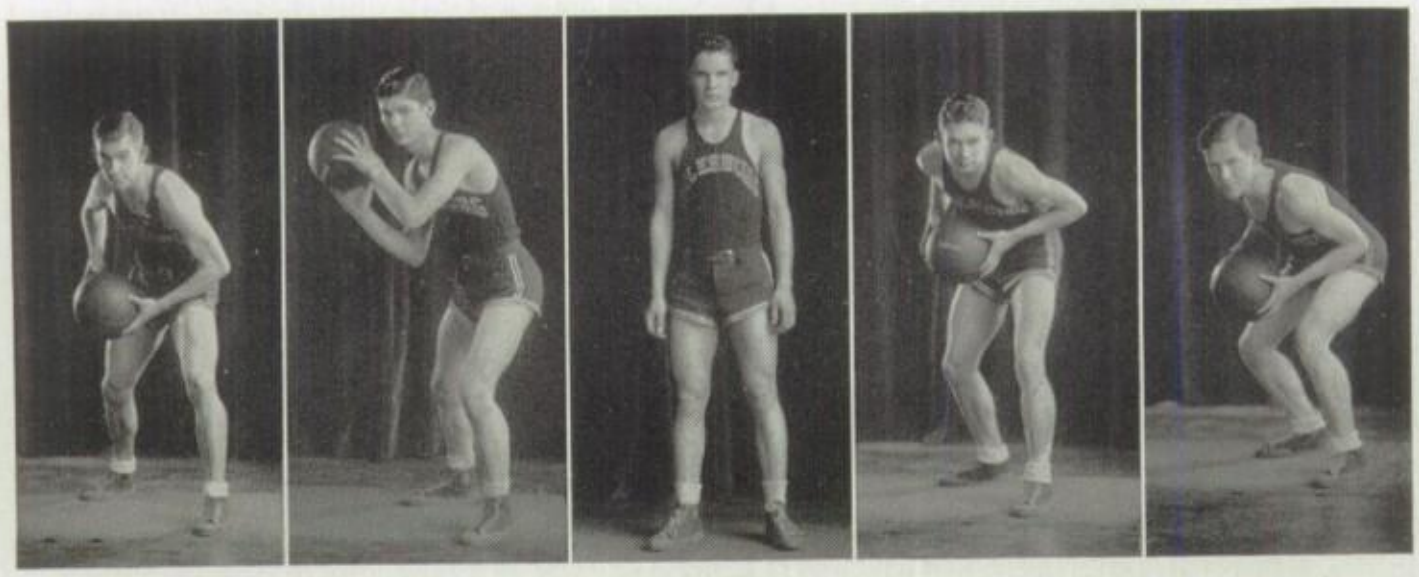
From the minute the whistle blew for the game to start until the gun ended it, Galesburg was never threatened. Mixing play after play with sensational basket-shooting, the team was assured a victory in the first eight minutes of play by running up a 14-3 lead on a team which outreached and outweighed them. In the next three quarters, Galesburg kept possession of the ball, scored occasionally, and presented a defense that Springfield could not sift through. Mills, who was captain of the game, and Anderson divided the scoring honors, each making eight points. Ashley and Mitchell played stellar games at the guard positions. Robinson recovered the ball from the backboard numerous times to aid Galesburg in securing a victory.

GALESBURG 12—CANTON 3

Another chapter in the long book of Canton-Galesburg basketball history was written when Galesburg cracked through a stubborn Canton defense for her sixth consecutive win of the season.

One of the biggest crowds in Galesburg's basketball history struggled for room to watch the fine exhibition of basketball shown by the Galesburg team. In the second half Galesburg retained possession of the ball and controlled the game practically the entire remaining quarters. Galesburg did not allow Canton a single point in the last half.

Canton failed to find a flaw in Galesburg's defense and had only a few occasions to try for a score and even then was forced to throw long shots which were ineffective. Bob Anderson, the star of the encounter, led the silver and gold offense and played a stellar floor game. Ashley was the captain of this game.



Ashley Belden W. Robinson Mills Burford

GALESBURG 26—QUINCY 19

Galesburg High sent Quincy home defeated. Never at any time was Galesburg threatened by Quincy. Coke Mills was the leading offensive star and "Red" Henderson, starting his first game of basketball for G. H. S., was outstanding. The work of "Hod" Ashley on the defense was the outstanding feature of the encounter. Bob Anderson was the captain of this game.

GALESBURG 34—ROCK ISLAND 17

Galesburg High annexed victory number two in its Big Nine Championship race by vanquishing Rock Island. The Galesburg offense was clicking in fine style. Mills and Ashley were the leading scorers, while Mitchell played a good defensive game. After a large margin was run up on Rock Island, the reserves finished the game and they too continued to score. Wayne Robinson, acting as captain, played his last game for G. H. S. and closed his career with an outstanding performance.

GALESBURG 13—CANTON 11

At Canton Galesburg High captured number three in the Big Nine Championship race. It was the first time in many years that the Silver and Gold warriors have defeated Canton on her own floor. Bob Anderson, who was the star of this hectic battle, led the local offense and thrilled both team and audience by shooting a basket from the center of the floor. Ashley, Mitchell, and Henderson played brilliant defensive games. The reserves who were used came through like veterans. Hartman shot the winning basket. Mills captained this game.

GALESBURG 20—MACOMB 22

The first loss of the season came with the Macomb game. Ashley and Mills were absent from the game because of illness. Galesburg High played a good game and Robinson and Burford, who were used, played very well. Mitchell proved to be the star of the game by playing a fine defensive game besides recovering the ball numerous times. Bob Anderson was the leading scorer. "Pete" Mitchell was the captain of this game.

GALESBURG 27—GENESEO 15

Galesburg defeated Geneseo to hold the lead in the Big Nine Conference race with a clean slate and the fourth conference victory. The G. H. S. cagers displayed a brand of basketball that had never been seen at Geneseo before. Sensational basket shooting and close guarding featured the Galesburg attack. "Hod" Ashley celebrated his return to the squad after being ill, by leading the offense with a total of ten points. "Bob" Anderson was the captain of this game.

GALESBURG 21—MOLINE 13

Galesburg won game number five in the Big Nine Conference race by beating Moline. Ashley and Henderson led the silver and gold attack. Mitchell was outstanding on defense. After the first half, the outcome was never in doubt, as our team quickly pulled away from their opponents. "Hod" Ashley was captain of this game.

GALESBURG 15—MONMOUTH 23

Galesburg lost her second game of the season to Monmouth, 23-15. A slippery floor and Teyro's brilliant basket shooting were the important factors in Galesburg's defeat. "Red" Henderson, who was Galesburg's star, played his best game of the year. Coke Mills was the captain of this game.

GALESBURG 31—KEWANEE 14

Galesburg again led the Big Nine Conference race, defeating Kewanee 31-14. This victory was the sixth conference win for Galesburg against no defeats.

Galesburg's cagers showed a return to form, scoring at will. During the first half Mitchell and Ashley led the silver and gold in point getting. However, in the second half Mills and Anderson peppered the basket for G. H. S. The Galesburg guards limited the star Kewanee forwards to three free throws. Galesburg displayed a brand of basketball that had never been seen in Kewanee. "Bob" Anderson captained this game.

GALESBURG 30—FARMINGTON 15

Galesburg High defeated Farmington by the score of 30-15. The game started out to be a close one, however, after the rest period the silver and gold cagers made basket after basket to then coast on to victory. The game was rather rough, both teams committing sixteen personal fouls. Henderson and Mills were the stars for Galesburg. Pete Mitchell captained this game.

GALESBURG 22—EAST MOLINE 18

Mills as captain, led Galesburg in its seventh conference game against East Moline. The Silver and Gold staged a rally in the second half to bring victory to Galesburg. "Red" Henderson led the scoring in a great last half drive. The teamwork displayed in this game was outstanding.

GALESBURG 21—MONMOUTH 12

Galesburg won the Big Nine Championship race by defeating Monmouth 21-12. The boys in red played one of the best games of their season. They allowed Monmouth only two baskets from the field. Hod and his mates held Teyro, allowing him only free throws. It was the "adios" for Ashley, Mills, Anderson, Belden and Hartman as they played their last regular scheduled game before the local fans on the home floor. Galesburg will miss them next year. Ashley captained this game.

GALESBURG 17—MOLINE 19

Galesburg journeyed to Moline for the last game of the season and was defeated 19-17. The fellows played hard ball but Moline had the breaks and Galesburg's last quarter rally fell short. A large crowd went to Moline to see their favorites perform. Anderson captained this game.

The G. H. S. Basketball Trophies

These trophies represent in part the success achieved by the G. H. S. basketball team during the 1930-31 season.

The large silver trophy in the center, with the regulation sized basketball surmounted by a miniature figure of a basket shooter, is the Big Nine traveling award which, by virtue of a conference championship, Galesburg possesses for one year.

The small trophy in front, similar to the Big Nine traveling trophy, also is symbolic of the Conference championship; however, this trophy is in Galesburg's possession permanently.

The Silver and Gold cagers successfully completed their first step in their trek to the state finals by winning the district tournament. The bronze figure of a forward at the extreme right symbolizes this victory.

Galesburg overcame the second obstacle in the preliminaries of the state tournament by winning the Moline sectional. The boys were rewarded for their efforts by the trophy, pictured at the extreme left, a bronze figure of a guard about to pass the ball.

The basketball seen in the foreground was given Galesburg because of their sensational victory over Johnston City. This basketball, inscribed with the names of the players, managers, and coaches, represents the determination of the G. H. S. team to fight against odds.

Although Galesburg did not win the state Championship, they were rewarded for their efforts with the graceful silver figure of a center about to tip the ball. Each player was given an engraved silver basketball.

To climax a very successful season, the Galesburg Chamber of Commerce presented to the team the beautiful trophy seen second from the left in the above picture. The trophy consists of two figures representing victory poised on top of a miniature world. This was presented at a mass meeting held at the Armory after the close of the season.

Basketball Tournaments of 1930-31

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT—MARCH 4-7

Armory, Galesburg, Illinois

Galesburg won the district tournament by virtue of wins over Knoxville, Bushnell, Altona and Abingdon. Galesburg, after easily eliminating its other opponents, met Abingdon in the finals, and after a close and exciting game managed to win a 21-19 victory.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT—MARCH 11-14

Field House, Moline, Illinois

The G. H. S. cagers wons the sectional tourney at the Moline Field House, after defeating Freeport, Moline, and Kewanee. In the game against Freeport, Galesburg went into an early lead and managed to hold them and win an 18-17 victory. The Galesburg team defeated Moline in a rough game by a score of 37-23. G. H. S. completely outclassed Kewanee in the final sectional game by forging ahead at the start. Their lead was never seriously threatened and they won 40-16.

STATE TOURNAMENT—MARCH 19-21

University of Illinois Gym, Champaign, Illinois

For the first time in eighteen years the Galesburg High School basketball team won its way to a place in the State Championship Meet at Champaign. In 1913 Galesburg had the honor of winning the State Tournament.

Galesburg, playing nearly perfect basketball, started its difficult schedule by defeating the Peoria Manual five, the 1930 State Champions, by a score of 30-22. The silver and gold team played its usual style, getting an early lead and holding it throughout the game.

The Galesburg boys, playing the most thrilling game in their career, won their way to the State finals by defeating Johnston City, the winners of the State Meet in 1929. Johnston City, outweighing Galesburg sixty pounds to the man, forged ahead and managed to hold the lead throughout the first three quarters. Early in the fourth quarter, Galesburg went into the lead only to lose it until the final forty seconds. With little or no time left, Coach Phillips inserted Joe Burford and Ebby Belden for Ashley and Henderson, who were taken out on personal fouls. Burford came through with a basket to tie the score and Belden, who was fouled as the game ended, provided the winning margin by sinking a free throw.

Playing Decatur in the final game of the State Tournament, Galesburg High School's team, enthusiastically cheered by a following of 1500, managed to lead the scoring in the first half. Our boys went into the second half with a fighting spirit, but were unable to check the splendid comeback of the Decatur five, which was characterized by quick floorwork and an uncanny accuracy in basket shooting. Our team fought on, hoping to repeat the brilliant finish of the previous game, but the rally fell short and the game ended with a score of 30-26 in favor of Decatur.

Although our boys won second place, we are proud of them because that silver trophy represents so well the spirit of the team—loyalty, sacrifice, and sportsmanship for Galesburg High School.

Freshman-Sophomore Basketball

The "Ponies", as they are commonly known in High School, had an unusually successful season. This light but fast team with capable substitutes showed extraordinary prowess in floor work and basket shooting. Surely much material for the future varsity teams can be secured from these boys who were able to win fourteen out of eighteen scheduled games.

CAPTAIN MITCHELL

Paul Mitchell, who completed his fourth year of track, as captain of the G. H. S. track team was an outstanding sprinter in the Big Nine Conference. It was necessary for the Reflector to go to press too early in the season to record the records made by "Pete" and his teammates. However, the Reflector of 1932 will contain an account of the track and field events in which "Pete" led his comrades.

Track Season

The G. H. S. track team had a very successful year. They made a very credible showing in their dual meets and in the district meet held at Monmouth. Although they made no outstanding records they presented a well balanced team and when the final points were counted in a track meet, Galesburg was always well up in the standings. Mr. Gillespie should be highly complemented on the way he has developed the track material for this year's team.

Galesburg Chapter

Founded 1927

President .....CHARLES LARSON
Vice-President .....ANNA CAMPBELL
Secretary .....GORDON DAVIS

The Galesburg Chapter of The National Honor Society received its charter in 1927. Membership to this society is not conferred by favor or friendship nor can it be retained by such; only those who throughout their high school course measure up to certain very definite standards may wear the honor key.

The emblem of the Society is a burning torch surrounded by the letters C. S. L. S. This key is a symbol of the meaning of the National Honor Society. The burning flame should ever remind one to be of service to others and guard the high ideals for which the organization stands.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY CREED

We believe in the joy of study, the delight of acquaintance with books, the discipline of diligent learning and the re-discovery of the world of nature and of men through an open mind.

We believe in character as essential to the highest type of scholarship. We hold that no intellectual achievement, however keen or clever, is worthy of deep respect unless it goes hand in hand with accuracy, reliability, honor, humility, tolerance, and truth.

We believe in service, that it is the privilege and responsibility of the enlightened member of any society to minister with kindness and understanding to the needs of the less fortunate in talent or in opportunity.

We rejoice in the burden of leadership which scholarship, character, and service lay upon us, for we believe that our torches should light others to lives of greater beauty, richer joy, and fuller service.

The following group of fourteen students was initiated as members of the National Honor Society in the spring of 1930:

1. Charles Larson
2. William Hartman
3. Gordon Davis

OFFICERS

Louise Paton	President	Harriett Stephenson
Lucille Hogan	Vice President	Marion Anderson
Margaret Nelson	Secretary	Ruth Nelson
Eleanor Baird	Treasurer	Helen Haskins

Executive Council—Helen Landon, Louise Shenaut, Anna Campbell, Mabel Pratt, Mildred Goad, Mildred Sorenson, Lois Cain.

Heretofore this group has been known as the Girls' Hi-Y, but the officers together with Miss Cox decided this year to find a new name more representative of the group, and the name Girls' Service League was assumed. Classes for members were organized in Bible Study and Fine Arts which were to meet once every week and a joint meeting of all the classes met the fourth week. This new plan has proved very successful and more satisfactory than the former one.

The purpose of the Girls' Service League is: "To create, maintain, and extend higher standards of Christian living throughout the school and community."

During the past year the purpose of the club has been made more effective than ever. They extended membership to all junior girls and a large number were inducted early in the first semester. At Christmas, the group showed the true spirit of Christmas by donating to the Associated Charities. Together with the Boys' Hi-Y, the group sponsored a Christmas Assembly taken from Dickens' "Christmas Carol". The two groups also held several joint meetings this year, with some very interesting programs.

Miss Cox, together with the officers, did much to make 1930-31 a very successful year.

Under the competent leadership of Mr. Hay and Mr. Bohannon, the Boys' Hi-Y has spent a worthwhile year, which was opened by the club with an all-school mixer. This was followed by a retreat at Lake Bracken.

During October, a quartet was organized consisting of: Delbert Nelson, Marion Van Buskirk, Dale Gunther, and Stuart Hawkinson, which proved to be very entertaining. The annual Coldbrook meeting, scheduled for November, was cancelled; however, the Older Boys' Conference in Aurora was attended by twenty-three members and afforded all a good time.

The organization had unbounded good fortune in carrying on its usual Christmas work of repairing toys for needy children. A short time later, a contest was sponsored on the subject of "Vocational Guidance" in which the contestants wrote reports on the vocational guidance books which the Hi-Y donated to the school last year. One of the most interesting programs of the year was a joint meeting with the Girls' Service League in which Mr. Harrington entertained the group with several feats of magic.

The purpose of the Boys' Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend, throughout school and community, high standards of Christian character, and the club feels that it has secured a fuller achievement of its ideals during the past year than in any other year.

Big Nine Extemp, Declam and Oratory

A total of eighteen students were entered in the tryouts for the honor of representing Galesburg High School in the three phases of the Big Nine Speech competitions.

From the girls' declamations, given by Margaret Reese, Ruth Nelson, Louise Paton, Louise Phillip, Maxine Grossir, Maxine F. Johnson, Phyllis Williams, and Lois Retherford, the judges awarded first place to Phyllis Williams who read "The Man on the Kerb". In the final contest held in Galesburg, Rock Island won first, Moline second, and Galesburg third.

This year the boys' oration contest was substituted for boys' declamation. The judges of the tryouts awarded first place to Robert Layton. The others who entered the contest were Smith Terpening, Stuart Hawkinson, Laird Swagert, Gordon Davis, Lee Britt and Robert Alexander. Our representative won fourth in the Big Nine Contest.

From the extempore speeches given by Margaret Reese, Robert Layton, Robert Moats, Andrew Lindstrom, Smith Terpening and Ruth Nelson before a joint meeting of the Boys' Hi-Y and Girls' Service League, Robert Layton was again chosen to represent G. H. S. in the extempore speaking contest at East Moline, where he won first place.

Big Nine Debate

This year Galesburg High School placed second in the Big Nine Debates. With a very excellent debate board Mr. Jennings had the material with which to work, and produced splendid teams. The question debated was, Resolved: That the recent tendencies of installment buying as developed in the United States should be condemned.

The debate board consisted of the following students: Gladys Rosenquist, Donald Roe, Henry Strow, Mabel Pratt, Gerda Wainwright, Rebecca Harlan, Andrew Lindstrom, Robert Layton, Tadd Wake, Margaret Nelson, Ethel Margaret Gillmor, Betty McLain, Phillip Johnson, Margaret Reese, Robert Moats, and Roger Shaw.

For the first time in the history of debating, each member of the board had a chance to debate. These practice debates were held with Burlington, Kewanee, Geneseo and East Moline.

For the final debates in the Big Nine Contest, Roger Shaw and Ethel Margaret Gillmor made the Affirmative team; Tadd Wake and Andrew Lindstrom the negative. In the first triangle consisting of Canton, Monmouth and Galesburg, Galesburg High School won the triangle, and went into the finals with East Moline and Geneseo. Our affirmative won from Geneseo, but the negative team lost to the East Moline. All the debates were very close, and when the final points were added there was only one-half point difference between each school. Geneseo won first, Galesburg second, and East Moline third.

This year Mr. R. O. Ahlenius, a former Galesburg High School graduate, presented a gold watch to the best debater in the school. Ethel Margaret Gillmor was chosen for the award. Mr. Ahlenius has established the award in honor of Mr. G. Howard Bridge, a former teacher in Galesburg High School, and has signified his intention of providing the award for a five-year period or longer. Ethel Margaret Gillmor, a junior, has served two years on the Big Nine Debate Teams and is very worthy of the award.

Final Debates

The question debated by the clubs this year was—Resolved: That the chain store system is detrimental to the best interests of the American public.

The club debates this year created much enthusiasm among the student and a large number were in attendance. There is much promising material for next year in forensic activities. The results are tabulated as follows:

Bang - - - ! ! . The president's gavel echoed throughout the building with a ring as clear as the cool, crisp dawn of that history making day in early September. Wishing to uphold the high standards of their predecessors, the Lincolns immediately chose a debate board to penetrate the most stubborn and unforseen barriers offered by the current question. The debaters—Lester Clovis, Gale Meadows, Andrew Lindstrum, and John Bohan, met the onslaught of the Annies and the Lizzies, but were out-pointed by the judges' decision.

While the orators were laboring over their verbal choice, the members of the football team were undergoing vigorous practice sessions. On the day of battle the L. D. C. eleven fought the Science outfit to a scoreless tie in the dim shadows of the steps where, not so many decades before, the genius, whose name they bear, struggled with a mighty foe in verbal combat.

The soft gleam of floor lamps, the dreamy chords of a melodious orchestra, and the light reflections of elevated flood lamps, were some of the conditions which made the Fall Frolic an over-whelming success.

The basketeers of the Lincoln Club displayed much prowess on the hardwood in the annual tourney, but they were surpassed by the Science cagers in the final tilt and again in the challenge game. To counteract the blow received on the basketball court, the Debaters engaged the Galesburg Club private dining room for their yearly chat over coffee cups, in commemoration of the emancipator's anniversary. Then, in order to make positive a triumphant march for our staunch quintet in their tournnament tussles, the dramatists entered the auditorium with their wit, song and pep to present a pre-tournament assembly, entitled, "Jimmie's Little Sister."

Bang - - - ! ! ! and the chief executive's gavel announced the adjournment of the last quorum to gather in Room Ten in that great year of '31 when G. H. S. went to the "State".

In the fall of 1930, rose the New Moon of the Elizabethan Literary Society in the sky of Galesburg High School. As time went on, the radiance and brilliancy of the Moon grew, filling all the Heaven with reflected light. Clouds passed over trying to obscure its face, but triumphantly it passed, on its destined way never failing when its light was needed.

The first ray of the New Moon shone for its members in September, at a picnic on the banks of Lake Bracken. The next shining was the Annual Fall Party, November 7, a very brilliant affair. Another bright appearance, on November 21, was the E. L. S. Carnival, voted the best mixer of the year.

Continuing its bright display, was the benefit assembly, December 12, given in collabration with the Lincolns, in the form of a play, "The Count of Unoware", and the Pep Assembly, February 7.

The victory of the Lizzies in the Triangular Debate, their membership on the Debate Board, their position on the Budget and Reflector, National Honor Society, and all other student activities reflect great credit on the whole school. This year they again held a high place in the Club Scholastic Ratings.

Winding up the school year in a final burst of glory was the Spring Party, May 30, and the Banquet, given in honor of the Seniors, June 4.

In forensic, scholastic, athletic, dramatic, and social fields, the Franklin Debating Club has enjoyed another successful year.

The annual Triple Debate was the first step in our forensic field. Our affirmative team composed of Robert Layton and Phillip Johnson defeated the Girls' Science negative, but lost to the Elizabethan negative team. Tadd Wake and Harley Swanson, our negative team, were victorious over the Boys' Science affirmative. Although we were not victorious in the club debates, we have made creditable showing in all Big Nine Contests.

The new members who were initiated during the year have upheld the club's scholastic record and again made it possible for the Franklins to rank first among the boys' clubs.

Not only are the Franklins placed high in scholarship but also as good sportsmen. This year our club entered teams in the inter-club football game, basketball tournament and swimming meet. The Franklins decided to introduce baseball as a club sport and so sponsored a club baseball league.

In the fields of dramatics the Franklins decided to defy superstition and so presented on Friday, March 13, a play entitled "The Thirteen Club". The profits from the assembly were used to buy a cyclorama curtain for the high school stage and books for the library.

The social calendar for the Franklins included the Founders' Day banquet which was held March 25, at the Galesburg Club with fifty members and alumni present; the annual fall party took place in the Girls' gym on November 7, and the eventful social year was brought to a close among the decorations and confetti at the gym on May 23, 1931.

The very first activity which the members of Camp Analotos enjoyed was a wiener roast in honor of the new campers, who in the course of the evening graduated from the class of the "Tenderfoot".

Next, the hardy scouts became sophisticated and presented a pep assembly in the form of a cabaret scene to the members of the nearby town of Galesburg High School in order to pep up their football team and to help them win the game with Monmouth.

The rough and ready campers decided that about December 6 they needed a little fun (they were getting too rough and ready), so they hiked to the neighboring town, Galesburg High School, and asked the offieials for the loan of a gym in which to hold a party. After inviting some more people from the town, the party was held "in a big way".

When Christmas time came 'round the members of the camp took charge of a family and gave them a happy Christmas day.

After the Christmas season, things seemed to be too quiet, so the campers decided to hold the annual A. L. S. Jubilee in order to pep up the citizens of G. H. S. town.

One day in April, the Manager of the Trading Post went up to the Director and said, "We haven't very much money in the Trading Post, now." The Director immediately called a pow-wow and it was decided to give a pay assembly on May 15 in G. H. S. town. Exactly how much money was received was not announced, but it was enough to save the Trading Post.

Since the campers worked so hard at earning money, they planned an evening of relaxation in the form of a party held in the town. The campers invited forty citizens to help enliven the affair.

The final celebration at the camp was a happy feast given in June in honor of the veteran campers who had finished their fourth camping period. The nineteen veterans left Camp with many happy memories mingled with regret, but the other campers departed with high hopes and ambitious plans for the future of Camp Analotos.

"Hell-o everyone! This is the Boys' Science Club program, coming to you from the studios of the Galesburg High School, room 141, in the Churchill Building.

"This program comes to you through the courtesy of the Science Club, with a membership of forty-four boys. As sponsors of fun, we head the list. We begin our program with a number entitled 'We Didn't Beat the Lincolns, But We Gave 'Em a Battle!' . . . . . The score was 0-0, and what a football game!

"Now we show you the peppiest of pep assemblies, 'We'll Try to Beat Canton' . . . . . That's that! Did you like it?

"We swing into the biggest hit of the first semester! The first and only decorated fall party in school! Begging your pardon, I repeat, we head the list. . . . . We pause now for station announcements." . . . . . .

"And now listeners, once more we entertain you with a surprising feature. Mr. H. M. Garst, being present in the studio, has kindly consented to say a few words. Mr. Garst."

"Thank you, Graham. A-hem! Ladies and gentlemen. I have not been notified of this ah-unexpected pleasure, so will only say this. We must carry on, be first in all activities! To the seniors, now—Good-bye and good luck! Good-bye everyone!"

"Thank you, Mr. Garst, I am sure we all agree with you. And now, let us review the outstanding events that will never fade from our memories. Debates! Our affirmative team lost, our negative won. How we argued!

"Basketball! We defeated the Lincolns in the annual game, and won the tournament, and the privilege of retaining the shield permamently.

"Continuing our list of important activities, we must mention the swimming meet sponsored annually by B. S. C., our banquet, the Glover cup awarded this year to Marion Van Buskirk, our joint benefit assembly, and our non-decorated spring party.

"More important yet is the fact that the Science Club has been well represented in athletics, on the debate board, in the National Honor Society, on the Honor Roll, and in the Senior class offices. Then the hit of the season, the smashing climax to a successful year was our project, a trophy case fashioned by masters!

"Our time is up! We bring our program to an end with our theme song, "We're Loyal To You, Science Club'. . . . . This concludes the B. S. C. program from the studios of Galesburg High School. This is Graham Cracker announcing; good-bye all!"

The Sportswoman, Miss Girls' Science Club, being human, a high school student, and a woman, and having the curiosity of the above, decided to appease such curiosity by taking up pee-wee golf. While gathered with her friends one day, Miss Girls' Science, with all due modesty for her accomplishments, of course, recited her prowess as half-pint golfer—

"The first hole—the beginning of the year—ah, what sport! Second hole—debate—I was most decidedly defeated. Third hole—assembly, "The Bachelor's Reverie", Nov. 7—I was rather nervous but I made it. The fourth hole was the fall party, and the music here helped me make it in one. The fifth hole, the Christmas project, took a little planning, but I did it in par. Number six, the Valentine's party, had cunning little heart hazards. On number seven, play, "The Ghost Story", April 10, I was terribly frightened, but I finally came out on top. Number eight was the Mother's Tea on April 23. So the mothers are taking up golf! Number nine, the spring party was the prettiest hole on the course, with its lattice work and flower decorations. Several young men applauded my graceful shot on this green. An excellent time was most certainly had by all! On number ten, the club picnic, a family of ants had taken up their abode. Such a time! As it was getting late I decided to play just a couple more holes and quit. Little did I realize how hard it would be to plan a scientific victory over the obstacles furnished by number eleven, the year's project! But I finally made it and breathed peacefully once more. And then number twelve! I have such pleasant memories of it! With a grand flourish and a couple of sandwiches I finished my golfing for that time. See you later!"

The Boys' Collector Club was organized in 1923 with the purpose of electing as members those students who desired to make useful collections. As can be imagined, the collections of the members are many and varied.

The meetings have proven very interesting to the members, mainly because the programs have consisted of talks by the members about their collections.

This year the club organized the first football team of its history. Practice games were held with both the Science and Lincolns and then a challenge was sent to the Franklins. They accepted and the game was played on a snow covered field. The Collectors came through victorious, Collectors 20, Franklins 0.

On December 19, the Laurian Literary Society and the Collectors held their annual fall party. The gym was gaily decorated with Christmas colors and the party proved to be a great success.

The next event on the Collector calendar was the annual club basketball tournament. The cup which is awarded by the club to the winner of this tournament was presented in assembly to the Boys' Science Club.

The annual spring party was held in conjunction with the Laurian Literary Society in the Girls' Gym, April 25, 1931. The party was a huge success, and every senior was sorry to realize that it was his last club party.

A membership of thirty-seven enthusiastic girls and an advisor who helped us through all difficulties were two important elements in the success of the Laurian Literary Society in the year 1930-31.

Since our chief purpose is to present worthwhile literary programs, we wish to mention as outstanding programs the one at which Miss Atherton gave an illustrated talk on her trip abroad, and the one given in the form of a musicale by members of the club.

The social activities of the year opened with the induction of sixteen "sophs" at a wiener roast held at Lincoln Park.

Then, just before Christmas vacation, the Christmas party for the Free Kindergarten was held to the great delight of the kiddies. There was an extremely large Christmas tree and a real Santa Claus who distributed candy, apples, and gifts to the guests.

The winter party given as a Christmas dance featuring a balloon dance and specialty numbers by Charles Schell, and a non-decorated spring party were both given in conjunction with the Boys' Collector's Club.

When March 10, drew near, the L. L. S. girls grew envious of their small sisters and, at the "Kid" party in the Recreation rooms, lost their dignity for the time being. Each little girl enjoyed the pot-luck dinner and later the movie, "Cimmarron", at the Orpheum.

Two weeks later under the direction of Miss Hood the L. L. S. and Orchestra presented "The Old School at Hickr'y Holler" to the delight and amusement of the student body. Our share of the proceeds financed our year's project. Visitors in the library will notice "The Pageant of America" in fifteen volumes edited by the Yale Press. We hope our year's project will be helpful to the student body in years to come.

The last day of April was dedicated to our mothers. They were entertained in the evening with a program presented by the members of the club. Each mother received a dainty favor.

In honor of our seniors a banquet was held at the Elks Club. A feature of the evening was the loving cup presented to Dorothy DeVoss, the senior who held the highest scholastic average for the four years. A gift was presented to Jacquline Frederick as the underclassman, who possessed a high yearly average and was deemed the most active member and the most outstanding leader among the sophomores and juniors.

The debate teams composed of Lois Cain, Mae Pruitt, Theola Truitt, and Ruby Turner were presented with silver D's in recognition of their excellent work in the fall.

The Laurians are very proud of their year's work and hope to excell, next year, in all activities. We wish to express our appreciation to Miss Schroder who has been adviser for the past three years.

Sept. 19. All the Prokoromas gathered at Lake Storey for their annual wiener roast. After roasting the wieners and marshmallows, dancing was enjoyed in the pavilion. This indeed was a "red-letter day" for the Prokoromas.

Oct. 28-29-30 mark the days of the inter-club debates. The Prokoramas won the dual debate. Mildred Sorenson and Ruby Kjellander upheld the affirmative side and Gladys Rosenquist and Eileen Frisk, the negative. Ruth McIntosh and Jane Waggoner served as alternates.

Dec. 13. With the flood lights shining and the music of Torley's orchestra, the Prokoromas danced in the girls' gymnasium. The two specialty features were enjoyed by everyone.

March 17. The Prokoromas entertained their mothers at a St. Patrick's Tea, given in the recreation rooms of the high school. The Prokoroma girls gave a lovely program and later served green and white refreshments.

May 1. The Prokoromas enjoyed another of those delightful spring parties with all the things that go together to make it nice—lovely decorations, music, punch and happy hearts.

May 29. The Prokoroma Club gave a lovely banquet in honor of their eight graduating seniors, who were given appropriate gifts. The other clubs of the high school and the alumni were well represented. As a fitting close to the banquet and to this year of activity, the Prokoromas expressed their appreciation to Miss Lamb, their advisor, who has been responsible for many of the interesting things the club has been able to accomplish.

The Aggies have garnered another crop and the harvest of activities has not suffered because of the drought.

Financing the judging teams' trip to the State Judging Contest at Urbana has been the club's chief project. The performance of the teams is ample justification of our efforts. At the sectional contest, at Alexis, the fat stock team placed first, and the dairy, poultry, grain and corn teams helped to win Galesburg second place as a school. The teams also gave a good account of themselves at the state contest.

The annual Father and Son Banquet, held May second, brought together the boys and their dads; the club's spring party on April eighteenth, brought out the boys and their best girls. At the banquet, letters were awarded to the members of the judging teams. The following boys received letters: Robert Alexander, Raymond Anderson, Glenn Brown, Carroll Marks, Ray Moberg, Wendell Oliver, Roger Smith, Donald Roe, Rolland Terpening, Smith Terpening, and Albert Wenstrom.

"Submerged", a one-act tragedy, was presented at a benefit assembly on April seventeenth. Its high dramatic character was fully appreciated by the students of G. H. S.

The Budget

You are now reading a publication which comes out once a year, but on this page you are also reading about a publication which came to you once every school week: the G. H. S. Budget.

Miss Nickel

The Budget had a very successful season this year, both financially and materially. This fact is due in part to an efficient staff composed of thirty-seven reporters from the upper form and two from the lower, headed by a very competent editor, Louise Paton, and an excellent business manager, Marion Van Buskirk.

The Budget has done its best to please you by printing stories you like and by always being on time. It has endeavored to keep pace with the activities of the school, to give representation to all groups, to encourage high scholastic standards, and to strive for friendly feeling within and without the boundaries of the school.

And so the Budget staff for 1930-31 writes "Finis" to this year' accomplishments.

The REFLECTOR

As you turn o'er the pages of this REFLECTOR, we hope you will think of it not as something that you will enjoy today and forget tomorrow, but rather something you will enjoy and value always. It has been the aim of the REFLECTOR Staff of 1930-31 to give you something that will bring you joy in coming years and mean even more to you then than it does now. Unless we have accomplished this, we have failed in our purpose. Miss Stickle and Mr. Damberg, our faculty advisors, were important factors in whatever success the staff has attained.

Among the things which we hope you will enjoy in this book are some of the best verses and short paragraphs written by members of the English classes, the snap shot pages representative of each club, the will and prophecy of the Senior Class, and the modernistic art theme interpreted in silver to signify the REFLECTOR's silver anniversary.

To the members of the staff who have worked on the year book, there comes a realization that no school annual can be produced successfully without the hearty co-operation of many people. To the advisory councilmen who took care of the subscriptions and payments made by a student body who subscribed for the largest number of books in the REFLECTOR's history, to the office force who acted as our bureau of information, to the faculty who gave us their support at all times, to the merchants, who used our books as a means of advertising, we wish to say that we can not wholly express our sincere appreciation of their kindness in helping us publish a good REFLECTOR.

Miss Stickle

It is the wish of the REFLECTOR Staff that those who have helped us gather the material for this book will find in its pages something to recall happy memories and inspire abiding interest.

The G. H. S. Band

The Galesburg High School Band under the direction of Mr. Roy S. Landon, had a very profitable and successful year. Over sixty students joined the band during the course of the year.

The band carried on its usual activities, playing at a number of the assemblies, in the Armistice and Memorial Day parades, at all football and basketball games, and at the armory on March 28, when the Chamber of Commerce presented the trophy to the basketball team.

On April 28, the band held its annual concert at the Presbyterian Church. This year for the first time the band held a joint concert with the orchestra on May 4, at the Armory.

Mr. Landon should be complimented for the splendid work done by this organization, and commended for his perseverence and faithfulness in developing a good high school band.

Mr. Landon

The G. H. S. Orchestra

Under the directorship of Mr. Landon, the Galesburg High School orchestra passed through a very commendable year.

The annual orchestra concert was held on May 19, at the Presbyterian Church, and on May 4 they presented a public concert at the Armory, with the band.

On March 25th, they presented the annual pay assembly with the Laurian Literary Society. They appeared on the occasion of the expression department play and the chorus operetta. Their final concert was given at the graduation exercises on June 4.

There were about forty members in the organization and very few were graduated, so next year the orchestra should prove to be superior in technique and coordination.

Mr. Landon played no small part in the success of the organization and should be given due credit for the work accomplished by the orchestra.

The Chorus

Miss Ross

Miss Ross has very capably led the Chorus through a most successful year. There were one hundred twenty-five enrolled in the three classes. This number excels that of former years.

The accompanists, who were Lucille Hogan, Helen Hogan and Louise Phillips, were largely responsible for its success.

Members of the Chorus entertained at numerous events during the year. Some of these were the Kiwanis Club, Western Division of Illinois Teachers' Association, The Girls' Service League and Boys' Hi-Y, and the Parent Teachers' meetings at Silas Willard and the High School.

An operetta "Yanki San", was presented on May first, as their final appearance. The cast is as follows:

Yanki San, the Princess.....Darlene Retherford
San Fan, maid to Yanki San.....Bryonia Armstrong
Maids—Gerda Wainwright, Jean Fuhr, Margaret Achelpohl, Mary Louise Tanning, Dorothy Milliken and Virginia Kost.
Seven Roses of Old Japan—Merle Dixon, Marjorie Tuttle, Leone Milward, Marjorie Parks, Pauline Torley (Peach Stone), Marian Tingey (Peach Blossom) and Hope Gabriel.
Prince Toto.....John Hawkinson
Princess Toto.....Marian Rose
High Chancellor of the Court of No Man.....Stuart Peterson
Ambassadors of the Mikado—Delburt Nelson, Charles Barlow, Gordon Davis, and Fred Armstrong.
Prince Oto.....Junior Tanner
Prince Ton Ton.....Paul Hicks
Chorus of Japanese maidens—Shirley Watters, LaVonne Law, Evaughn Lawton, Helen Billings, Betty Billings, Marie Thomas, Mary Kelly, Marian Dodson, Betty McLain, Margaret Rowen, Opal McLaughlin, Josephine Lowry, Marion Brown, Barbara Riley, Muriel Snell, Ruth Nelson, Erma Gibbs, Virginia Hunter, Mae Morris, Ruth Sanderson, Helen Griffith, Eunice Lindrothe, Marjorie Anderson and Irma Jean Wickersham.
Fisher Lads—Willard Anderson, Russell Brown, Leroy Morris, and Harold Darnell
Accompanists.....Helen Hogan, Louise Phillips, and Lucille Hogan

The story centers around Prince Toto who was banished to the Island of No Man. His daughter, Yanki San, is born on the Island. She is beloved by the court but hated by her seven sisters, and because of their hatred, they bribe the Wolf Witch of the Island to cast an evil spell on her.

The Mikado, hearing of the Princess' beauty sends ambassadors, to the Island to negotiate for the hand of Yanki San, however the Prince refuses, suggesting they take one of the other seven but they depart in anger.

Finally, all cures being of no avail, to awaken the Princess from the spell of the Wolf Witch, her father offers her hand to whomsoever will slay the Wolf Witch and break its charm. The Son of the Mikado, Prince Oto, slays the Wolf Witch and carries Yanki San back to Old Japan as his bride.

Student Advisory Council

The Student Council, one of the most valuable organizations in school, was founded in 1925, for the purpose of better cooperation between the students and faculty.

The Council is composed of a student representative from each advisory and represents the student body as a whole.

The organization this year had charge of the athletic ticket sale, tournament ticket sale, the REFLECTOR sale and various other projects and conducted them exceedingly well.

Each student whether an eighth grader or senior had a voice in the affairs of the school and the same chance to tell the wishes of his own particular group.

The list of those who have served on the council as advisory representatives this year is as follows:

"That Mysterious Fairy, Jack Frost"

A mysterious fairy in a garb of white
    Wanders stealthily through the night,
A brush and a palette he carries along
    And he paints as he sings just a bit of a song.

He touches the leaves with his magical brush
    And a wonderful change now behold,
For the leaves that were faded before—
    Are orange and crimson and gold!

Quickly now to the window he flits
    To paint a pattern divine,
Lacy trees by a crystal lake
    As only a fairy could design.

Startled, he skips back to Fairy Land
    For Old Sol peeps over the way,
But he chuckles to himself as he thinks
    Of what the delighted children will say.

Wanderlust

Oh! Nile cliffs and Alpine scenes call my heart to roam,
And iris by my garden gate tell me, "Stay at home."
But ships at harbor fogbound, and fishing in the bay,
And ocean blue and green and gray, capp'd with misty, pearly spray,
Lure me with a wanderlust too strong to put away.
So apple trees ablooming (or brides in misty veils),
Maple trees in crimson clad (or warriors on old trails),
And woods and brooks in winter's grasp tug at my heart in vain.
"Far fruit seems always sweetest," so runs an old refrain.
Yet how much more pleasant traveling, to know that when I tire,
A small white house at journey's end holds my heart's desire.

To a Deserted Rose Garden

Ghosts of ancient memories linger here,
Trysts of forgotten lovers long since fled,
Odors of vanished blossoms haunt the air
Where trellised rambler roses, white and red
Dropping their petals, loose an essence rare.

Evening

The sands of day sift faster through the glass,
Shadows erase the setting sun's last gleams,
The tides of sleep rush in across the flats of night,
And bring to port sweet argosies of dreams.

Galesburg High School Speaks

My halls resound to strains of vanished music,
Still are tales of ancient heroes oft retold,
Still keeps mine ample heart a sanctuary
For all who wore the silver and the gold.

At the Junction of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers

Pale, yellow rays of the sun vainly try to peep through the heavy, low-hanging clouds.

A pall of thick, grey smoke creeps out over the sullen river and mingles with the mist of the morning air.

Clay banks, the color of mustard or ginger almost hidden under hopeless tangles of low brush.

Here and there a bare tree stretches gaunt arms to the leaden sky.

A boundless expanse of powerful, turbulent waters, representing in its volume the grey of the sky, the brown of the earth mingled and mixed, surges wildly into its new channel like a panic-stricken crowd.

The Goddess of Grain Surveys Chicago

(The Goddess of Grain is a statue which surmounts the Board of Trade Building.)

Towering above the vast city under cloud, smoke, and sunshine,

There stands a lone figure, the Goddess of Grain.

She surveys from her sentinal post the sky line of Chicago

And peers down the length of LaSalle Street,

A street filled with heavy vans, flashing taxies, loaded busses, and hurrying pedestrians.

To her right the lazy, sluggish Chicago river lumbers along toward the lake.

Out in the lake, the vigilant Goddess descerns ships large and small

Which seem to ride on a thick, dark, storm cloud of water.

She watches a barge with a cargo of sand, dug from the lake bottom,

Make its way to the site of the World's Fair.

At night she stands guard over a city of dark shadows and twinkling lights.

She measures the hours till dawn by the intermittent flash across the sky of the Lindbergh beacon.

The Glories of Peace

How often we have watched the setting of the sun and thought of the glories of the sunset! Have we stopped to think of the sun in his daily journey and of what he sees? He sees the glories of peace and the devastation of war. If we could look upon peace and war together, as does the sun, we should observe a startling contrast.

He beams on the plowman, as he tills his fields and goes home to rest in quiet.

He smiles on man, as he constructs bridges, high buildings, ships, roads, and as he carries on research work to preserve his brother. These are the glories of peace.

The sun frowns as he looks on war.

He sees the crops trampled under the marching of thousands of feet; buildings, roads, ships, and cities destroyed by ponderous guns.

Research work is still carried on, but it is to find the best way to destroy, rather than to preserve one's fellowmen.

Someday, perhaps, the sun in his journey, will not look upon the devastations of war, but he will look upon man reaping only the glories of peace.

EDWARD SELTZER, '34.

The Armory

The Armory! How many pleasant events that word brings to our minds. Basketball games, revival of friendships, graduation day! We must have basketball games, of course, for what would school be without basketball games, and what would basketball games be without the Armory? Even the crowd waiting outside with their tickets are inspiring to us, but we rush in to be with the crowd on the bleachers—to watch that famous team of ours run up the score with basket after basket. Cries ring through the building as someone shoots a basket. Again, the place is deathly still as a free throw is being made. Those gripping, tense moments are a part of us and our school life, and the Armory brings them to us.

Then comes the tournament with scores and scores of programs! The team starts off with enthusiasm and goes to the finals. On to Moline and Champaign, we shout, and to Champaign we go. The crowd in the Armory listens tensely to the broadcast of the games. The thrill of those moments, the common hope of victory, and the breathless hush, while the score remains uncertain, bring us closer together. Then the presentation of the trophy ends our successful basketball season. Though the trophy does not mean first place, it does mean a great deal to us and to the team. How proud we are of the boys who won it.

But, even these happy days fade into the background as we go into the Armory to get that for which we have been working, and that which ends our high school career. Graduation day arrives, what a day of days in our lives, what an appropriate place to gather for our graduation exercises! The Armory which already has come to mean so much to us seems now an integral part of our lives. So it is very appropriate that we should assemble at the Armory for the last event of our high school

In Mrs. Hopwood's Garden

(A Flower Fable)

Jimmie Marigold had continued his schooling for two weeks now, in the school lot on the corner of Bean Boulevard and Carrot Avenue. He had become an intimate friend of Bernice Baby-Breath and Juanita Nasturtium. His playmates, Peter Salvia, Ted Ageratum, and Fred Aster, had learned to play ball with peas and icicle radishes.

Beginning with the third week, Miss For-get-me-not gave them lessons in physiology. They had to learn how to hold their heads when it rained, why the sun shone, and that they must withstand a weekly hoeing.

Jimmie also learned from the school nurse, Miss Poppy, that he was only three inches tall and weighed four ounces. To gain in weight, he was given instructions to drink a pint of soil water each day.

One day, June Rose, Anna Sweet-Pea, Betty Bleeding-Heart, and the Peony twins, Jean and Joan, were transplanted into the school lot.

Jimmie could just barely remember the graduation exercises he had attended in the spring. The class consisted of five members: Marjorie Crocus, David Daffodil, Tommy Tulip, Shirley Narcissus, and Beulah Bluebell. Miss Spirea played the processional and Mr. Syringa gave the address. The class colors were green and gold and their motto was, "Every-day in every way we're growing better and better."

Weeks went by and Jimmie worked diligently, determined to graduate with the rest of his class.

At last the great day came. Jimmie had bloomed out of season and was withering away.

Room 555

By this time I was opposite room 555. I knocked lightly on the door and immediately the noise stopped. I was foiled again. By this time, boys and girls, I hope you have discovered that I am the famous hotel detective, Burlock Holmes. This case was the hardest I ever had. Room 555 was a very peculiar hotel room. No one came out, and no one dared go in, for no one was sure to return. I got razzed by the hotel force for not finding out the cause of the noise. Therefore, that very evening, I obtained a pass key to 555 from the clerk and made up my mind to get the criminal or die in the attempt.

I ate one good meal, (maybe my last, who knows?) before retiring in 555. I was sleeping peacefully when Big Ben's chimes struck twelve. I heard a buzz coming near me; now, it grew louder. I waited breathlessly for the first attack.

Suddenly I was knifed in my right arm, then in the left by this mysterious killer. Then the thought came, if I were to die, I would pass out fighting bravely to the end. Luckily, I grabbed my assailant. The fight to death was on. I finally choked his life-blood out of him, and his body with its twisted neck lay sprawled out before me.

My first thought was to call the hotel force, but I was stopped by a terrible realization. I was now a cold blooded murderer. Alas and alack, what was I to do? I gathered my wits together. I took the body and cut it into pieces and buried it. No one will ever find that mosquito.

The Puppet Show

A crowd stood in front of a certain little shop in the down town district. In the window, a slim youth manipulated several strings upon which hung tiny, wax puppets. Grotesquely the dolls danced about; the spindly arms and legs swung limply in the air, and the dull, vacant faces stared blankly at the crowd.

Fascinated, the crowd watched the antics of the puppets. Old and young stood there in awed silence. Now and then a burst of laughter broke forth as a doll performed an eccentric dance step.

It was a strange crowd in front of that little shop. A swarthy Italian father gestured and chattered to his plump, rosy-cheeked wife and baby. A grimy little street gamin watched with open mouth and with eyes wide with wonder. School girls, eating peanuts and candy, stopped and forgot the passage of time as the puppets danced on. Richly dressed ladies of leisure mingled with charwomen and office girls. The rich rubbed elbows with the poor, but all were on the same level during those few moments of respite from more worldly cares. Age had slipped away, and the old were children again as they delightedly followed the movements of the wax figures.

The dancing stopped. The youth flung out his hands in a gesture of finality and began packing the dolls in a leather case. Slowly the crowd dispersed—each person hurrying his own way, and each person taking with him a little of the ecstasy and joy of a make-believe world.

A Crushing Farewell

Quietly and stealthily she crept up the long winding stairs. Every other step she looked down to see if anyone was watching her. She went to the top stair, turned into the attic but stopped to look again to see if anyone was following her. Then, quietly and slowly, she closed the attic door, turned the key in the lock, and tip-toed over to one of the trunks. It was a small gayly colored trunk. She took a key out of her pocket, put it into the lock of the trunk and slowly turned it. She pulled the lid of it up to behold the jewels of her childhood.

She searched and searched for the thing that she wanted. Ah! There it was at the bottom of the trunk wrapped carefully in tissue paper. With a little cry, she snatched it up and held it closely to her heart for one short second. A tear rolled down her cheek at which she hastily brushed away. Then, she wrapped it in the paper and laid it back carefully amidst the pink silk of its casket, gave it one, long last look and then closed the lid. She turned the key in the lock of the attic door, opened it, and went out. She looked again at the box and then closed the door which was closing on her childhood forever.

She was a freshman who had held her doll for one brief second.

Challenge

Tall, stately, and erect he stands,
Safe from all harm.

Only after hard labor, confidence in himself and belief in God
Could he gain his lofty height, and inspire young minds and hearts.
He cannot be forgotten throughout the universe.

Youth!
He is a challenge to us all.

Tall, stately and erect he stands.
Over guarding all he reigns,
Our immortal figure of Lincoln.

Lee Britt, still a farmer.

Henry McLeese and Henry Drake, Mutt and Jeff act on Broadway, who finally decided life was too slow and have started up in the dairy business in Hong Kong.

Don Larson, exporter of "lutefisk" (stockfish) between U. S. and Norway.

Gordon Davis, still carrier of a brief case.

Ruth Nelson, lecturer and writer for many years on social and industrial problems of the day.

Leo McLaughlin, inventor of a famous soap guaranteed to get you clean. (Hope he doesn't indulge in soft soap!)

Viola Irons and Helen Harlan, missionaries in India.

Gertrude Famulener, prominent in the world's fashion center as a designer of women's apparel.

Harold Charnock, a history teacher (received his inspiration in Mr. Robertson's class).

Verle Johnson, a great charity worker in Gilson.

Fannie Likes and Florence Likes, supervisers of playgrounds.

Helen Gustafson, beauty specialist for Hollywood stars.

Harold McLain and Bernard Mayhall, ditch diggers.

Gale Meadows, a most distinguished young lawyer.

Earl Melton, President of the U. S. A.

Wayne Melton and Ivan LeVally, owners of Fresh Air Taxi Co.

Helen Allison and Bryonia Armstrong, second Marion Talleys.

Vivian Barr, a reporter for the Chicago Daily News.

Berthenia Baxter and Ruth Johnson, the world's most silent connoisieurs, were recently awarded the Nobel prize for testifying there was nothing the matter with "Flaming Youth."

Delos Cook, caretaker of pigeons in Standish Park.

Eugene Griffith, assistant to Delos.

Howard Duncan, champion flag pole sitter.

Katharine Kidder, instructor on how to keep combs and powder puffs busy.

Laverne Berge, ringer of the liberty bell at 4 o'clock in G. H. S.

Blanche McCullough and Florence Hatch inmates of a home for retired spinster millionaires.

Robert Alexander, an agriculturist.

Ivy Johnson, girls' champion 'free tosser'.

Larson, Strow, Johnson, Larson, Layton, Swagert, Hinckley
DeWitt, Reese, Grossir, Young, Scharfenberg, Nemith

Expression Department Play

On January 30, 1931, the expression department presented "Honor Bright", a farce in three acts, by Meredith and Kenyon Nicholson, as its annual production.

Under the direction of Miss Grossir, Margaret Reese and William Hinckley who carried the leads, proved themselves very capable of interpreting the parts of book agent and young millionaire. The audience was delighted with their resourcefulness in time of emergency.

Lucille Young played the part of the very prim and pensive wife of Laird Swagert, a minister who thoroughly enjoyed quoting poetry to the book agent.

Maxine Grossir, playing the part of the mother of the young millionaire, was quite surprised to discover Rose Nemith, a young actress, as the real fiancee.

Smith Terpening and Bill Bohan acted very creditably in their parts as minister and broadway producer.

Helen Scharfenberg led the cast of household servants in her clever interpretation of the house maid. Marian Dewitt as Irish cook, Charles Larson as the butler, Henry Strow as gardner, Robert Layton as chauffeur, Phillip Johnson as deputy sheriff, and Don Larson as the policeman of the neighborhood, should be praised for their faithful work in minor rolls.

The cast is as follows:

Honor Bright, a book agent	Margaret Reese
Mrs. Lucy Barrington	Maxine Grossir
Richard Barrington, her son	William Hinckley
The Rt. Rev. William Carton	Laird Swagert
Peggy Carton, his wife	Lucille Young
Rev. James Schooly	Smith Terpening
Bill Drum, press agent with the "Snap it Up Company"	Bill Bohan
Tot Marvel, a chorus girl	Rose Nemith
Watts, the butler	Charles Larson
Anne, the maid	Helen Scharfenberg
Maggie, the cook	Marion Dewitt
Foster, the gardner	Henry Strow
Michael, the chauffeur	Robert Layton
Simpson, deputy-sheriff	Philip Johnson
Jones, deputy-sheriff	Don Larson

The Senior Play

The Senior Class of 1931 presented in the Knox Theatre on May 15, an adaptation of Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women", by Marion DeForrest. The very charming story with its old fashioned characters and costumes made the audience relive the happy hours of childhood which were spent with the four sisters, Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Mr. March	Gale Meadows
Mrs. March	Marjorie Tuttle
Meg	Ruth McIntosh
Jo	Shirley Woolam
Beth	Elsa Greenquist
Amy	Margaret Nelson
Aunt March	Lucille Young
Laurie	Donald Roe
Uncle Lawrence	Donald Larson
Professor Bhaer	Robert Moats
John Brooke	Dana Watts
Hanna Mullet	Helen Landon

The seniors who were selected for under study parts are Henry Strow, Mildred Goad, Elma Nash, Rebecca Harlan, Helen Scott, Alice Seward, Evelyn Etchison, Andrew Lindstrom, George Nelson, Hugh Garver, Charles Larson, Louise Phillips.

Senior Speaker

Following the custom adopted in 1930, which requires that a Senior speaker be chosen from a group of students selected by the scholarship committee, the Senior class of 1931, by a very close ballot, chose Stuart Hawkinson as their representative on the commencement program, June 4.

The other seniors, who also possessed the requirements of scholarship and speaking ability, and who were deemed worthy of the honor of being Senior Speaker were, Charles Larson, Helen Landon, Louise Paton, Harriett Stephenson, and Andrew Lindstrom.

Junior Marshall for 1931—Robert Twyman.

A SUCCESSFUL ANNUAL

A successful year book is one that expresses the spirit of the school by translating in book form the individual ideas of the annual staff and the recording of outstanding events of the school year.

This annual expresses the spirit of Galesburg High School, and embodies the ideals of the staff of "The Reflector, 1931" through its pleasing makeup, fine typography, excellent printing and attractive binding, all of which goes to make this a most successful book.

The personal service and hearty cooperation of all those having to do with the mechanical and editorial production of this book has made it a very attractive annual.

Knox College and ···· YOU

KNOX COLLEGE is a neighborly college. Many of your friends attend it.

KNOX COLLEGE is a college of high standards. You know many of Galesburg's leading citizens who are Knox graduates.

KNOX COLLEGE has a fine athletic program that makes it possible for every student, whether he is a star athlete or not, to take active part in sports that interest him.

KNOX COLLEGE develops leaders. Her graduates have become nationally and internationally famous as authors, bankers, publishers, statesmen, lawyers, physicians and business men. Knox women are leaders in many fields.

YOU will find at Knox College four years of physical, moral and intellectual training that will provide a wholesome and valuable background for whatever calling you may follow.

Thrift --

Builds character, leads to happiness, contentment, and independence, while extravagance, if persisted in, tends to lower the standard of character and leads to restlessness, discontent, disappointment, sorrow and, in many cases, to poverty.

If this is so, then there isn't a student in our High Schools who can afford to deny thrift right of way in his life.

Cross RAILROAD

CROSSINGS Carefully

¶ 2,500 killed, 7,000 injured in accidents at railway crossings in one year.

¶ Often when a train is blocking a crossing, both children and adults climb between or under cars of the standing train.

¶ Stop and think what would happen if the train would start suddenly. The same is true of stealing rides or jumping on or off moving trains.

¶ Many thoughtlessly walk on railroad tracks or through railroad yards, taking a short cut home or to school, little realizing the danger of being injured. In our mind injury is always for the other fellow.

¶ Whether walking or driving practice "SAFETY FIRST". Protect yourself and "CAUTION OTHERS."
